

ZERO FREQUENCY

The Language Of The Universe

*Many people speak of Oneness but what is its experience?
How do we attain the Oneness that the enlightened masters speak of? Can such an experience be had within the frequencies of light waves?*

“Deep intuition says that we are all connected and are one irrespective of the large distances separating us.”

The Nature Of Light

“It is infinitesimal to the point of non-existence and yet is omnipresent. It encapsulates the collapse of time and yet is eternal. It embodies both aspects of existence - being and becoming, at the same time. It is subtle and yet a glimpse of connection can alter all aspects of consciousness and living matter.”

Light and wave energies are the primordial connections to the universe. They have existed ever since the Big Bang and is the elusive glue which led to the creation of matter.

Scientifically all wave forms are characterized by their frequency and wavelength. Light energy is also defined by its frequency. A higher frequency signifies higher energy and lower frequency means the wave has less energy.

We are all aware that gamma rays have the highest frequency levels. The energy carried by this wave is so high that it can destroy any living matter. These high frequency waves interact with matter explosively and hence cannot travel long distances. Interaction with matter destroys these waves and ionizes matter.

As we go down the frequency range we encounter cosmic rays and ultraviolet rays which are extremely potent. At the other end of the spectrum are the low frequency waves - the red frequency, the infrared and radio waves. These micro waves can travel for long distances unhindered since their interaction with matter is minuscule. This is also the reason why low frequency waves are selected for radio transmissions.

As we further traverse the frequency range we encounter the very low frequency waves which are almost undetectable. These waves traverse long distances unhindered, penetrating matter as if they are transparent.

Light And “Distance”

As long as a wave (light is a wave) has a finite frequency, to reach point B from Point A, they have to traverse the distance. Given their enormous speeds, they can traverse large distances in a short span of time. But any signal has to go through a time lapse before reaching its destination.

Since no matter or light can travel faster than the speed of light, scientifically we have to conclude that stars and planets which are separated by billions of light years are isolated from each other, each system sitting in their mini citadel unaffected by distant matter and life forms.

In some sense this hypothesis seems to violate our conception of the singular nature of universe and life forms within it. Deep intuition says that we are all connected and are one irrespective of the large distances separating us. How do we reconcile the scientific reality with our intuitive understanding? The answer is “Zero Frequency”.

Zero Frequency - The True Unifier

Zero Frequency bridges the reality with our intuition and ties it into a seamless whole. Zero Frequency is the lowest frequency level that we can encounter and is the true unifier of the entire universe.

Unlike non-zero forms of light frequencies, Zero Frequency exists everywhere at once. It does not have to traverse from point A to point “Zero Frequency bridges the reality with our intuition and ties it into a seamless whole. ... is the true unifier of the entire universe.”

B, because it exists everywhere at once. Zero Frequency is the culmination of being and becoming.

At this frequency since there is no traversal required, communication is instantaneous. All universe and all matter, all life forms communicate at the Zero Frequency level. “Entanglement” - a quantum phenomenon which involves spontaneous and instantaneous communication happens at this level of frequency.

“Time” In A Singularity

Light energy has many other fascinating properties - one of them being time. We all perceive the clear arrow of time - past, present and future in our day-to-day lives. Our experience of life is defined by the arrow of time and we cannot imagine a life without it. And yet, imagine that we are traveling on a light form as our chariot, that is assume that we were to traverse with light. “Special Theory of Relativity” by Einstein, tells us that time collapses into a singularity - i.e. the past, present and future which collapses into a single dimension.

This beautiful property of light is true for Zero Frequency waves. At this level, time drops to a singularity and the present, the past and the future collapses into one moment.

While we cannot perceive Zero Frequency with our 5 senses, we can sense it within us and can connect to it. Sadly, we do not experience this connection in our day-to-day life, so much so that the very description of this form of communication seems abstract and surreal.

Re-Connecting With Truth

This disconnectedness has happened for a reason. Through evolution and passage of annals of time, humans have distanced themselves from this Universal communication - Zero Frequency. As we chose to travel down the path of external reality, the experience of this connection became more and more feeble with time. As a result a phenomenon which was once considered natural and normal is now perceived as an aberration and a supernatural phenomenon.

Connection to this frequency even for an instant can change life forms. Since Zero Frequency is an universal communication paradigm, it is the epitome of nature and encapsulates the unadulterated form of natural and universal existence.

Corrupted forms of life existences cannot exist alongside. An instant transformation happens when one experiences connection with the Zero Frequency. The paradigm shift does not happen in a linear time zone. It is a multi-dimensional reality, which means everything impacts everything else. This Zero Frequency can transform and communicate seamlessly across all life forms. All these changes happen below the level of consciousness and hence we can say that the change and transformation happens at the unconscious level.

Knowing-All-At-Once

When one is connected to this Zero Frequency, one can perceive all happenings of the world, access all the information that is available and communicate with the universe instantly. Zero Frequency signifies the glory of the universe and points to the connectedness of the world.

Rashmi Aiyappa was born with the experience of Lifeforce Mechanism™ and Timeless Phenomenon™, which is the knowledge of life's mechanism and the cause and effect cycle in nature. She founded Aashwasan, a global revolution in 2005 to offer Aashwasan Science™, a path breaking knowledge to the world. Her invention - Aashwasan Science™ facilitates an experiential journey that is instrumental in restoring the original mechanism in people, enabling them to experience their infinite potential. It is spiritual in origin, scientific in approach and experiential in nature. Rashmi Aiyappa's mission is to restore the original creation of humanity, thereby taking it towards the direction of nature's preservation and bringing a profound transformation to instill hope and love. Her motto is, "Love is where it all begins". Reach us at info@aashwasan.com / malaysia@aashwasan.com. Visit www.aashwasan.com and www.facebook.com/RashmiAiyappaSpiritualScientist

BEYOND TIME AND SPACE INTO THE WORLD UNDISCOVERED

A science that was discovered with mysteries hidden in ancient times, secrets about timelessness and theories about life after death - one science that encompasses mechanism of all life forms into a single dynamic format demystifying root cause of all unknown, may it be - suffering from a disease, struggling in situations of life, stuck in a relationship or not knowing your self at all. It has an answer beyond religion, belief, faith, logic and philosophy - it is an experience.

Aashwasan Science™ demystifies the unknown by unraveling the cause and effect of life and its experiences. It is a revolutionary science that has transformed lives of thousands of people across the globe, bringing Unprecedented Breakthroughs in hundreds of health conditions at preventive, curative and palliative levels. Root cause analysis using Aashwasan Science™ has broken barriers that threatened organization's survival, development and growth. Movements such as Humane Science has witnessed transformative impact in education. The source of this science is Ms. Rashmi Aiyappa, a globally renowned Spiritual Scientist & award winning Social Innovator.

RASHMI AIYAPPA,
Spiritual Scientist,
Inventor of Aashwasan Science™ and Founder of Aashwasan

To Benefit from Aashwasan Science™ contact us at Email: malaysia@aashwasan.com;
Ph: 0173645625 / 0123057539.
To know more visit www.aashwasan.com.