

The word Inheritance brings an image of a legacy or a gift left behind by those who came before, and one owns it with pride, sentiment and responsibility. One cherishes it with care. However, some inheritance can do just the opposite. It can bring an experience that one didn't expect or ask for. One such inheritance is the Inheritance of Diseases.

INHERITANCE OF DISEASES

An insight into human predicament and possibilities

Dis-ease is an unnatural condition of the body or mind that causes discomfort, dysfunction or distress in the person affected. Behind every dis-ease or health issue is a deeper problem or a root cause, which is often unseen. What we experience as diseases are but a manifestation of that root cause. More than 80% of all diseases that we are afflicted with, can be traced back to aberrations in our inner life. These don't just affect us, but unfortunately, are also passed on to the next generations, affecting our children's well being.

It is a fairly common phenomenon to see diseases running through families. Conditions such as cancer, cardio vascular diseases, allergies, respiratory conditions etc. have been known to run through families. Not only the diseases of the body but also diseases of the mind (such as depression, suicidal tendencies, schizophrenia etc.) can be inherited by the offspring.

What are the mechanisms behind diseases which are passed from one generation to the next? How can we stop these from impacting our children? Is there a way to address these mechanisms before they afflict the future generations even more?

Aashwasan Sciences view a human life as a body-mind-soul mechanism, where the soul is the infinite lifeforce and the origin to the source of life. The infinite lifeforce which is the mechanism of the soul with its mind and body contains the essence of one's identity and the mechanisms that manifest the experience of it. When this mechanism manifests on the body, an individual is able to experience their life as a two-way communication. The manifestations of the communication that originates from the soul is what is experienced in the physical life of the individual. Our experiences not only tell us who we are, but also restructure our genes to enable the evolution of the species towards its survival and development. Thus, the human system is an intelligent, real time and intuitive mechanism created by Nature, which has an inbuilt self-healing capability to preserve its original creation. E.g. physiologically our cells, tissues, organs function with one another in harmony to enable healthy living. Thus human beings are designed by nature to experience seamless holistic health, complete wellbeing and purposeful living. Unfortunately, we do not experience this.

Over thousands of years, evolution has brought (and continues to bring) alterations in the physiology of a human being. Over generations, the ability of the human physiology to capture and manifest the communication from the soul today, continues to organically diminish. As a result, the ability of the human mechanism to self-assess and self-correct to preserve its original creation has largely diminished. Such a predicament in human experience has brought changes in the natural format, altering mechanics of the human system. Human beings carry, within them, innumerable variations of the original format. Thus, dysfunctions, malfunctions and degeneration have become a common phenomenon leading to many degenerative intractable diseases including genetic diseases, auto-immune conditions and non-communicable diseases etc. Thus, we live in a society where people constantly suffer from sickness and disease. People struggle to be present to their life and are deeply disconnected with themselves and the world around them. Not only are these faulty mechanisms a cause of concern to human lives today, but also pose a grave threat to the coming generations, as these faulty mechanisms are passed from one generation to the next.

Aashwasan Science™ is a spiritual technology which is instrumental in restoring the original mechanism in all life-forms and nature, thereby bringing about a natural transformation. It has the capacity to revamp the human mechanics whether it is the body, mind or the spirit. As the mechanics is revamped, the human system (mind-body-soul mechanism) connects to its innate potential to revisit, identify, and repair itself. As the body, mind and soul mechanism transforms, a human being is also able to enjoy the experience of that transformation, thereby facilitating a holistic living.

From the beginning of Aashwasan's journey, Aashwasan has been rendering its services in treating people suffering from conditions that have been passed on through generations or which stemmed from variations in the genetic format. At the origin of the two-way communication, the soul manifests a seamless communication with its body and mind and establishes high levels of coping, preventive and curative possibilities in people with genetic conditions. Path-breaking results have been recorded in people diagnosed with Down's syndrome, Angelman syndrome, Diabetes Type 1, Thalassemia, Keratoconus, Epilepsy, Autism and many more, and are popularly recognised as unprecedented breakthroughs for the first time in the world.

One of the key takeaways of the Aashwasan's interventions is the unique manner in which the genetic metabolism of the individual is equipped to take out the dysfunctionality completely from his/her system. Also, people who experience Aashwasan Sciences are likely not to pass on such conditions to the next generation. The possibility of human life to rejuvenate and reinvent its original format is a possibility that Aashwasan experiences on a daily basis.

Thus, as much as it is a fact that we pass on our degenerative health conditions to our next generation, now there is a possibility of reversing this degeneration and live a healthier and disease-free life, inheriting the true human potential and not the degeneration of it. Aashwasan steps towards preventive health that can transform many lives to unfold its true potential and uniqueness.
